SWIMMING CARNIVAL.
A huge thanks to Blair Ganley and Sue Joyce for volunteering their time to train the Seabrook swimming squad over the past few weeks. With help also from parents the children have been prepared very well for the district swimming sports held on Wednesday at the Werribee Outdoor Pool. I visited the pool on Wednesday to see many children performing their best and supporting the Seabrook team. We hope every child enjoyed their swim and are happy with their personal best.

UP-DATED CHESS LIST
Please see page 6 for current list of children participating in chess lessons each Tuesday and Wednesday.

ICT
There continues to be a very high uptake to the one to one MAC program. The children are excited to use their computers across all areas of the curriculum and it is pleasing to see how openly teachers incorporate technology into their teaching. The younger years continue to use ipads, netbooks and laptops. We will be upgrading and extending our ipad program with mini ipads and more trolleys. The Preps are loving the ipads and it is exciting to see how readily the children use these resources.

CURRICULUM DIRECTIONS
Staff members are working continuously to capture the learning and development of each child. Teachers are currently assessing their students to ensure they are providing an engaging and challenging program. Staff is currently focusing on the teaching and learning processes of mathematics and have worked with a curriculum consultant Michael Ymer to strengthen the teaching in this area. Teams are also examining the use of successful strategies to support comprehension in English.

Have a great week.

School Council Elections 2013

Information for Parents

School Council Elections 2013

What is a school council and what does it do?
All government schools in Victoria have a school council. They are legally constituted bodies that are given powers to set the key directions of a school within state-wide guidelines. In doing this, a school council is able to directly influence the quality of education that the school provides for its students.

Who is on school council?
For most school councils, there are three possible categories of membership:

- A mandated elected Parent category - more than one third of the total members must be from this category. Department of Education and Early Childhood Development (DEECD) employees can be Parent members at their child's school as long as they are not engaged in work at the school.

- A mandated elected DEECD employee category - members of this category may make up no more than one-third of the total membership of school council. The principal of the school is automatically one of these members.

- An optional Community member category - members are co-opted by a decision of the council because of their special skills, interests or experiences. DEECD employees are not eligible to be Community members.

Generally, the term of office for all members is two years. The term of office of half the members expires each year, creating vacancies for the annual school council elections.

Why is Parent membership so important?
Parents on school councils provide important viewpoints and have valuable skills that can help shape the direction of the school.

Those parents who become active on a school council find their involvement satisfying in itself and may also find that their children feel a greater sense of belonging.

How can you become involved?
The most obvious way is to vote in the elections, which are held in Term 1 each year. However, ballots are only held if more people nominate as candidates than there are positions vacant.

In view of this, you might seriously consider

- Standing for election as a member of school council.
- Encouraging another person to stand for election.

Do I need special experience to be on school council?
No. What you need is an interest in your child's school and the desire to work in partnership with others to help shape the school's future.

What do you need to do to stand for election?
The principal will issue a Notice of Election and Call for Nominations following the commencement of Term 1 each year. All school council elections must be completed by the end of March unless the usual time has been varied by the Minister.

If you decide to stand for election, you can arrange for someone to nominate you as a candidate or you can nominate yourself in the Parent category.

DEECD employees whose child is enrolled in a school in which they are not engaged in work, are eligible to nominate for parent membership of the school council at that school.

Once the nomination form is completed, return it to the principal within the time stated on the Notice of Election. You will receive a Nomination Form Receipt in the mail following the receipt of your completed nomination.

Generally, if there are more nominations received than there are vacancies on council, a ballot will be conducted during the two weeks after the call for nominations has closed.

Remember

- Ask at the school for help if you would like to stand for election and are not sure what to do.
- Consider standing for election to council this year.
- Be sure to vote in the elections.

Contact the principal for further information.
Middle Learning Community News - Get to know Grade 3HT

During the first three weeks of ‘Getting to know you’, Grade 3HT students committed themselves over one week to be independent thinkers by creating spectacular mind maps which described their personal beliefs, values, experiences, goals/ambitions and interests. Students were required to follow specific ‘mind mapping’ rules that entailed: central image (concept/big understanding), main branch (topic) and sub branches (details). In addition, students used their creativity to not just write down their ideas/thoughts but also sketch images/pictures that linked in with their ideas. Here are just some of their pieces. If you would like to see more, please pop into room 15 anytime. You’re always welcome.

Junior Learning Community News - from Grade 1VT

During our Maths lessons this week the Grade Ones have been learning about measurement using informal units such as hand spans, unifix blocks and icy pole sticks.

The children each created a sausage dog. In order to do this they were allowed to choose strips of differing lengths of paper and then folded the strips to create a zig zag pattern. Once finished the children attached the dog’s head and tail to each end of the paper.

After this it was then time to estimate how long they thought their sausage dog was. The students wrote one prediction for the length of the dog in unifix blocks and another prediction for icy pole sticks. Then the children used these materials to measure and check if their estimations were right.
Can your child write his or her name?

Handwriting is important for a number of reasons.

One involves the concept of mental resources, in relation to reading and mathematics as well as writing. Just as effortful word decoding may impair reading comprehension, or lack of automatic recall may reduce the mental resources available for learning advanced computational algorithms in math, labored handwriting creates a drain on mental resources needed for higher-level aspects of writing, such as attention to content, elaboration of details, and organization of ideas.

When handwriting is perceived as arduous and time-consuming, motivation to write may be greatly reduced, leading to a lack of practice that may further compound difficulties with writing.

Finally, handwriting in the earliest grades is linked to basic reading and spelling achievement; for example, when children learn how to form the letter m, they can also be learning its sound. Attention to the linkages among handwriting, reading, and spelling skills can help to reinforce early achievement across these areas.

Children may not write well until they have developed good fine-motor skills. Fortunately, these skills improve easily with lots of practice.

Use the following activities to help your young child develop the precision, balance, and hand-eye coordination that are needed to perform the fine-motor skills used in handwriting:

1. Give your child clay or play-dough to play with to strengthen the major muscles used in handwriting.
2. Encourage her to play with Legos, miniature cars, small blocks, action figures, and other small toys.
3. Do puzzles with your child.
4. Provide creative art projects that involve using crayons, marking pens, scissors, and finger paints, as well as tearing paper.
5. Play games with your child that involve the handling of cards and small game pieces.
6. Ask your child to sort collections of loose coins into stacks
7. Help your child learn to manage such everyday skills as tying and lacing his shoes and buttoning his clothes.

Remember, every child has a different timetable in acquiring the fine-motor skills needed for handwriting. The more your child uses her fingers in activities, the sooner she will acquire these skills.

Your child will be more successful if she's armed with the right tools to improve her handwriting.

- Different sized pencils, textas
- Dry erase board. Perfect for letting your child repeatedly practice her letters. Saves paper, too!
- Plastic wipe-off sheets. Laminate sturdy stock paper. Your child can use wet-erase markers that will easily wipe off with a wet paper towel
- Tracing paper and alphabet book. This combination lets kids trace the letters getting a proper feel for how they're constructed.
- Erasers. The only way to learn is through making mistakes. Make sure you have plenty of erasers on hand.
- Fun accessories. Pencil toppers, different coloured pencils, brightly coloured kid-friendly notebooks — anything to help your child associate handwriting with fun.

So Prep parents, if necessary, please help your child to practice writing his or her name. Could all parents refer to the correct letter formation charts given out last year on the Prep information night or refer to samples on our school website.

SCHOOL COMMUNITY WORKER

Jointly with neighbouring schools we employ through federal government funding a community worker who attends our school 1.5 days per week. We are required to re-submit applications for further funding and provide feedback reports annually. We would like your feed back. Janet Greenwood has run coffee mornings for parents, support groups for children and works individually with children in need. Please indicate on the slip below and return the slip to school if you think this service is a worthwhile avenue for parents and children at the school. Your feedback will help us peruse this program further.

(Please fill in your suggestions and hand in to your child’s teacher to pass on to the office)

☐ I think the community worker is worthwhile and would like to see this service continued at Seabrook Primary School.

We have had a great start to the banking year with 184 students banking over the last two weeks.

The Commonwealth Bank account opening day was a great success. The response to our school banking program has been fantastic and it is not too late for you to join. It is as simple as going to any Commonwealth Bank branch with your driver license and your child’s birth certificate then an account will be opened on the spot.

All students have now received their parent pack, please take the time to read the information inside which includes the rewards card with the exciting new rewards.

The current rewards on offer for term 1 and 2 are the handball, wallet and knuckle game. Please put your order in as soon as possible as once the stock runs out they will no longer be available and you will miss out. With 10 tokens and your filled in rewards card place them in your yellow banking wallet to receive your reward.

Thank you for supporting our School fundraising efforts and teaching your child how to save. Saving regularly is an important habit to get into, whether you are saving a little or a lot. Keep up the great work and remember to bring in your deposit book each Wednesday.

HEAD LICE

We have been informed by a number of parents that head lice is on the march again. We suggest that your children keep their hair tied up to avoid them spreading.

Many lice do not cause an itch and are found on the hair itself. They have six legs, which end in a claw and rarely fall from the head. Eggs are laid within 1.5cm of the scalp and are firmly attached to the hair. They resemble dandruff, but can't be brushed off. You can buy head lice lotion from the chemist.

Please check your child’s hair and treat if necessary.
