Dear Parents/Guardians,

In line with our first unit of inquiry ‘Many factors contribute to who I am’, we have organized an incursion that will be conducted by Carp Productions. They will present a show titled ‘Happy to Be Me’. Within the show students will learn about self-esteem, friendship, acceptance and diversity. Through stories, music and larger than life characters, the show encourages students to explore their individuality and the importance of friendship and be proud of themselves.

This is a valuable hands on learning experience which encourages students to explore their individuality. It will be really beneficial for your child to attend this educational and engaging incursion coming soon to Seabrook.
